

Fear the Turtle.

Maryland is on a path to meet its destiny. We're already among the Top 20 national public universities. More National Merit, National Achievement and Distinguished Scholars in the state choose University of Maryland over all other public and private institutions combined. In just five years, our incoming freshman class average GPA soared from 3.5 to 3.9. Our top-notch faculty includes six Pulitzer Prize winners, a Nobel Prize winner and scores of Fulbright scholars. But, if you think that's all we're destined to accomplish, then you don't know your Terrapins. ROAR!
